

11th Eurasia Conference on Chemical Sciences

EuAsC₂S - 11

CHEMISTRYCARES

6-10 October 2010, The Dead Sea - Jordan

Jordan Welcomes You Ahlan Wa Sahlan

Under the patronage of His Majesty King Abdullah II, you are cordially invited to attend and participate in the 11th Eurasia Conference on Chemical Sciences (EuAsC₂S-11), organized by University of Jordan and The Middle East Science Fund. The conference will be held at the Dead Sea, Jordan, from October 6 – 10, 2010. Over 500 eminent scientists from all over the world are expected to participate in this conference. We are pleased to announce this event as a continuation to the biannual series of international conferences on recent advances in chemistry. The aim of EuAsC₂S is to support the advancement of chemistry in the developing countries by organizing a world top class international conference in a developing country.

Participating Eminent Scientist and Nobel Laureates

Aaron Klug (UK) Nobel Laureate, Alan R. Katritzky (USA), Andrew V. Schally (USA) Nobel Laureate, Atta-ur-Rahman (Pakistan), Bernd Micheal Rode (Austria), Chunli Bai (China), Dudley Herschbach (USA) Nobel Laureate, Geoferry Cordell (USA), Ian Fleming (UK), Jean-Marie Lehn (France) Nobel Laureate, Jon Clardy (USA), Leiv Sydnes (Norway), Omar Yaghi (USA), Paul J. Crutzen (Germany) Nobel Laureate, Richard Ernst (Switzerland) Nobel Laureate, Roald Hoffmann (USA) Nobel Laureate, Upendra K. Pandit (Netherlands), Walter Kohn (USA) Nobel Laureate, Wolfgang Voelter (Germany).

Over hundred eminent invited speakers are going to participate.

Call for Oral and poster participation

Abstracts submitted for oral and poster presentations will be peer reviewed. Full papers will be published in special issues in international Journals.

We encourage you to register and submit your abstract at the website NOW.

Exhibitions

Scientific exhibitions will be organized along with the conference; they will include booths for:

- Laboratory equipment.
- Pharmaceutical companies and other chemical industries.
- Undergraduate and graduate chemistry textbooks.
- Software for chemical education and research.

Interested companies and institutions are advised to check the website or to contact the conference secretary for more information.

International Organizing Committee (IOC)

- IOC Members: Bernd Michael Rode (Founding member, Chair of EuAsC₂S-11, Austria), Ivano Bertini (Founding member, Italy), Youngkyu Do (Secretary General, Republic of Korea), Susumu Kitagawa (Japan), Bilge Sener (Turkey), Fabian M. Dayrit (Philippines)
- IOC Fellows: Gilbert Balavoine (France), Atta-ur-Rahman (Pakistan), Jan Reedijk (Netherlands), John Webb (Australia).

National Organizing Committee (NOC)

- Musa Nazer: Chair of National Organizing Committee.
- Amal Al-Aboudi: Conference Secretary.
- Members:
 - Staff of Chemistry Department, University of Jordan.
 - Representatives from Jordanian Universities.
 - Jordanian Chemical Society.

Scientific Program Topics

- Natural Products Chemistry
- Material Science & Nanochemistry
- Physical & Computational Chemistry
- Organic Synthesis
- Pharmaceutical Chemistry and Drug Design
- Heterocyclic Chemistry
- Solution Chemistry
- Latest Developments in Water Research
- Environmental & Analytical Chemistry
- Recent Advances in Spectroscopy
- Educational Chemistry
- Bioorganic Chemistry
- Bioinorganic Chemistry
- Coordination Chemistry
- Electrochemistry & Neurochemistry
- Renewable Energy
- Workshop I: Writing Proposals
- Workshop II: Using Scientific Databases
- Workshop III: Safety in Laboratories.
